

ATLAS BOARD MEMBER

JODY BEVEN

I was born in Tasmania & moved to WA in 1993, before settling more permanently in Geraldton in 1996. I have spent my entire working career in the finance industry, most recently as a founding staff member of Bendigo Bank's Community Bank Branch since April 2009. The switch to Bendigo was to support the financial model which is about sharing the profits from banking within in a local community with local decisions on the use of those funds.

Since being in Geraldton I have been involved in numerous community groups and sporting clubs, with recent positions as president of the MWCCI, an adviser to the Local Advisory Committee of the Rangeway Child & Parent Centre, board member at Wandina Primary School and Chairman of the NACC Independent Selection Panel, just to name a few.

My role at ATLAS is part of this commitment to make the Mid West a better place to live, and as part of a wider support role for people who are disadvantaged in any capacity. The vision and purpose statement of ATLAS is one I feel I can contribute to with my experience in strategic direction and in developing financial sustainability models for NFP groups.
